The project aims to develop an interdisciplinary approach for the protection of the Istanbul Land walls and their transfer to a sustainable future.

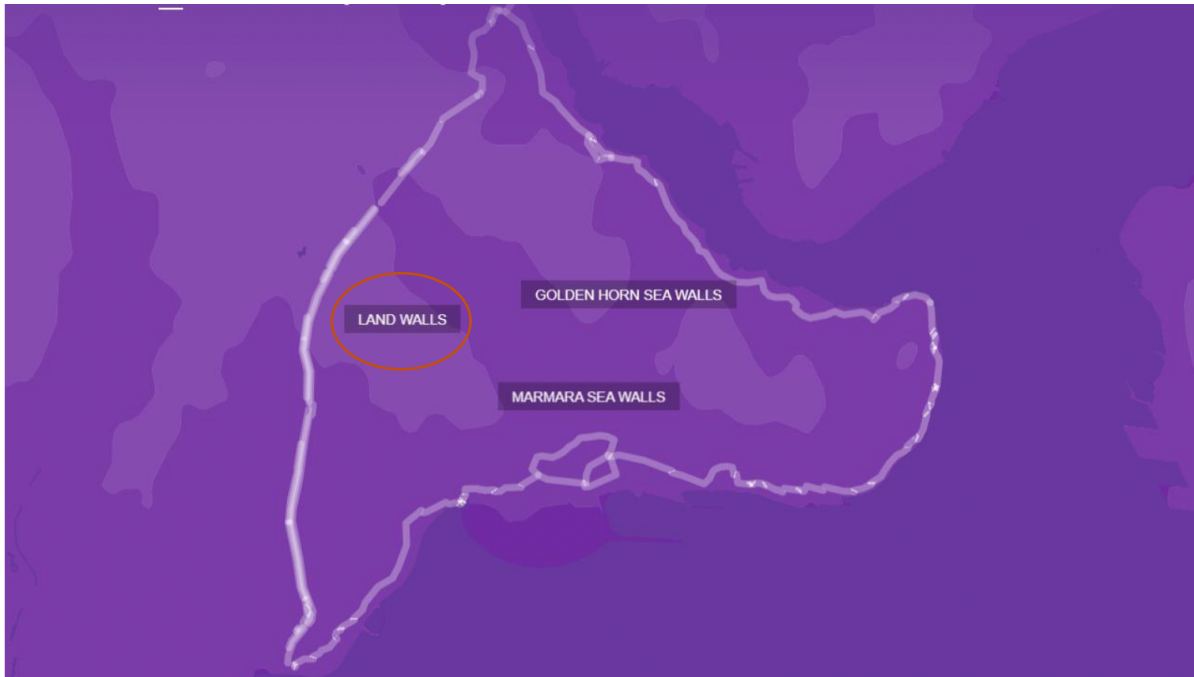

The workshop will address issues such as the digitalization of historical architectural and archaeological heritage, supporting it with gamification methods, addressing the Land Walls at environmental, urban and landscape scales, evaluating architectural elements within the perspective of a circular economy, and strengthening the Land Walls as a threshold in historical, functional and periodic contexts.

This comprehensive event aims to strengthen international cooperation while offering new approaches for the preservation and transfer of an important cultural heritage site such as the Istanbul Land Walls to the future.

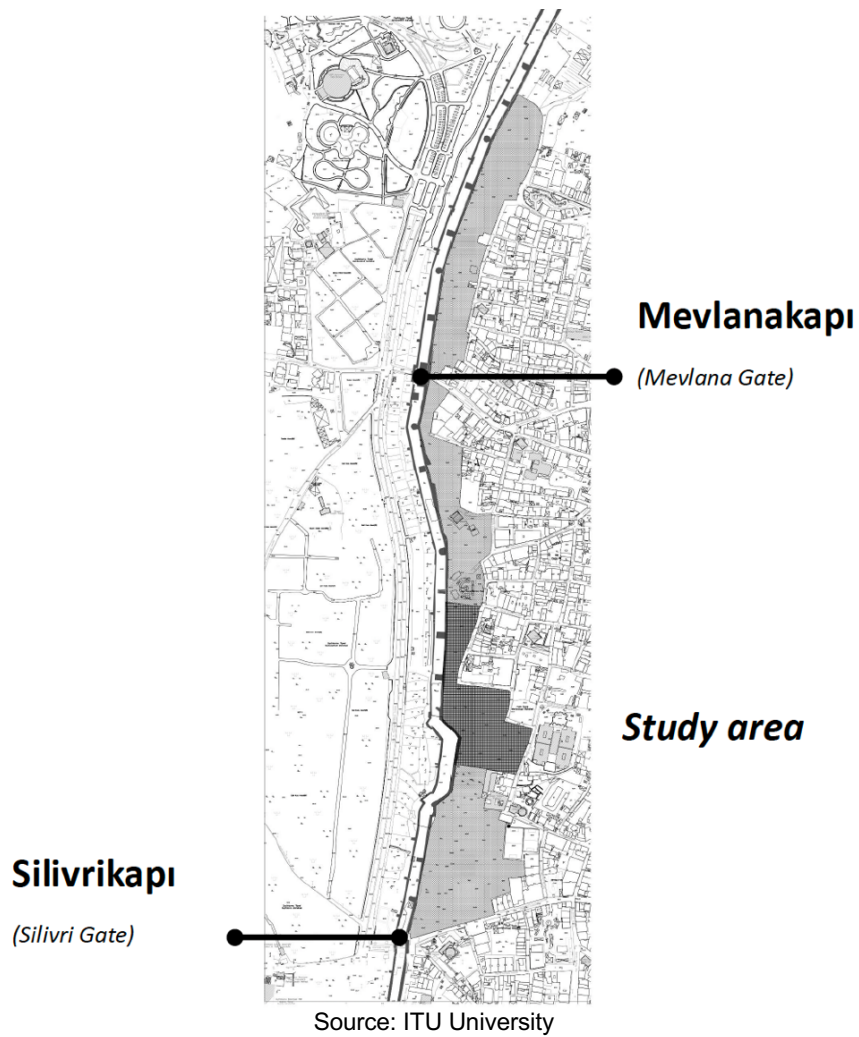

The workshop is open to all the students from the AUIC School (Bachelor and master) of Politecnico di Milano, PhD Candidates of Politecnico di Milano and students from the Scuola di Specializzazione in Beni Architettonici e del Paesaggio (1259).

There are no costs for inscription to the activity, while the travel and staying costs in Istanbul are paid by the students. Further information will be given during the acceptance meeting and during the lectures.
