SCUOLA DI ARCHITETTURA URBANISTICA
INGEGNERIA DELLE COSTRUZIONI

On the occasion of the ceremony to confer the Honorary Degree in Architecture – Laurea Magistrale ad honorem in Architettura e Ingegneria Edile-Architettura – upon Pakistani architect Yasmeen Lari, zero-carbon champion and advocate of the poorest of the poor, a number of events were planned: a workshop on her humanitarian architecture, meeting students participating in the workshop, publication and presentation of a monograph entitled Yasmeen Lari: An Architect. Workshop students made prototypes (digital reproductions and scale maquettes) of her best-known humanitarian projects to explore the study of vernacular – updated and enhanced – bamboo construction techniques. These prototypes are shown at LaborA, a physical and virtual modelling laboratory, on Politecnico di Milano's new Architecture campus.
